

My household opposes weakening Indiana's telephone privacy law. It will be a great injustice if this law is weakened at all. We signed up for telephone privacy for a reason, and no one should be able to challenge what we fought so hard to get.